Major Research Interests

Multivariate statistics: Structural Equation Models (SEM)
Generalized Linear Mixed Effects Models (GLMM)
Longitudinal analyses (growth curve models, latent difference score models, growth mixture models)

Ageing research: Subjective well-being and emotion in old age
Attitudes towards death and dying
Health- and mortality-related processes in old age

Education

06/2012 Adjunct Professor for Psychology, University of Heidelberg, Germany

07/2009 Habilitation (postdoctoral lecture qualification), University of Heidelberg, Germany
Thesis on Psychological adaptation in old age: Conceptual considerations, methodological challenges, and empirical results

03/2004 Dr. phil. in Psychology, University of Heidelberg, Germany
Doctoral dissertation on Longitudinal analyses on the development of satisfaction in older age (written in German)
Summa Cum Laude

10/1993 Diploma in Psychology (equivalent to M.A.), University of Heidelberg, Germany
Diploma thesis on Robustness of metric and non-metric conjoint analysis based on simulated preference data (written in German)

Academic and Research Experience

01/2006 – present	Senior Research Scientist, University of Heidelberg, Institute of Psychology, Department for Psychological Aging Research
03/2009 – 01/2010	Senior Research Scientist, University of Heidelberg, Mannheim Medical School, Mannheim Institute of Public Health
04/2004 – 07/2004	Appointed Lecturer, University of Heidelberg, Institute of Psychology
04/1998 – 12/2005	Research Associate, German Center of Research on Aging at the University of Heidelberg, Department for Ecological and Social Gerontology
04/1995 – 03/1998	Research Associate, University of Heidelberg, Institute of Psychology, Department for Methodology
01/1994 – 06/1995	Research Assistant, Heidelberg University Medical Centre, Psychosomatic Hospital
11/1993 – 03/1995	Research Assistant, University of Heidelberg, Institute of Psychology, Department for Methodology
